

My name is Jesse Crawford, I was in a car wreck in 2008. Because of that wreck, I received a brain injury. When I was released from the hospital in my mind I was 100% fine. My parents wanted to get me some more help, I didn't understand why, like I said earlier, I was fine. It wasn't until I finally agreed to go to this program, that specializes in brain injuries to see the side effects of the brain injury itself.

I was doing little things, that wasn't really that noticeable to me. But not only did, the program Bridges help me see a lot of my problems, but they helped me find strategies, and solutions to live a normal life, ~~as though~~, and feel confident about the decisions I make. It's been 4 years since my accident, and I am getting ready to do a work eval, to get me back into the job market, which is awesome, but none of these good things that are happening for me, wouldn't even be happening for me without Medicaid, and I feel that it would be unfair, for others who might be going through similar or worse events to not have the opportunities that I have been fortunate enough to receive. So in conclusion, I am trying to plead with you to not cut these programs, Medicaid, opportunities that ~~I~~ have been fortunate for me, my family, my friends, my situations.

yours truly Jesse Crawford
